Just a Thought...

Today, Sunday, August 17, 2014, at the 9:30 a.m. Mass at Old St. Pat’s, our community will offer a huge prayer of Thanksgiving for Becky (Terlep) Gee! Becky has been our Director of Youth Ministry for the past nine years and after some serious discernment about her future, she has decided to “retire” from this very specialized form of ministry and move in to something else in the non-profit world.

This does not come as a surprise to me or all of us. Becky has been carefully contemplating this move for the past couple of years and while her stepping-down has naturally brought a heaviness to my own heart, I know that she is doing the right thing not only for herself but most importantly for the ministry she has both created and built up over these past nine years.

What has been amazing to witness these past few months has been the joy with which her transition has been taking place. Not only does Becky feel “ready” to make the next move, but the teens, our families, and the new youth minister, Courtney Nichols, are all on the same page as this transition carries on.

Unlike other long-term team members of Old St. Pat’s who arrived before I did in 2003, it has been an amazing gift to watch and witness Becky and our Foundations Youth Ministry take off and establish itself with great credibility. Though I was probably more on the “side-lines” in the early years of her ministry, I have thoroughly enjoyed getting more involved and seeing firsthand the delight and energy which Becky and her young adult leaders bring to youth ministry. Again, though I do not have a lot of hard evidence of other places to support my claim, I have to believe that the Old St. Pat’s Foundations Youth Ministry is probably one of the finest anywhere in the Catholic world! That may come across as being outrageous, arrogant and shortsighted, but I have been so impressed with the quality of ministry that has been taking place right here in our midst under Becky’s direction. Not only has she mastered the WorkTour/ Mission Trip experience, but every time I have seen meeting notes, retreat line-ups, going with the kids to the National Youth Conference, being with them on Sunday mornings, I have been so impressed and inspired by their faith, maturity, intelligence, and their commitment to Foundations.

I do believe that Becky and her team has laid an excellent “foundation” for them in these critical teen years that I hope and pray will be the future of this church community. I cannot help but think of the headstone inscription at the grave of the late Cardinal Meyer who is buried in the seminary graveyard that often is quoted to the students: Prepare your self well for the task that lies ahead; for you are the hope of the church!

While there have been some transitional moves taking place this summer among our team, I do want to take this opportunity to give thanks to God in a special way for Becky. She has been a great gift to Old St. Pat’s and her energy and excitement for those in their teen years has been second-to-none. Watching her grow into this position and never missing a beat when it comes to planning programs and caring for the youth, Becky has truly “pastored” with great devotion this critical piece of our mission. We stand tremendously grateful for her unconditional support and ministry that she has brought to the next generation! We are a grateful Church, dear Becky, for you and all that you have done to bring the gospel to our younger sisters and brothers. They loved you and You loved them! Well done, “Yo!”

Peace to all during these summer days.

Fr. Tom Hurley
Pastor

Thank You, Becky!

Following the 9:30 a.m. Liturgy on Sunday, August 17, 2014, we invite you to join us in the Church Hall for a reception honoring Becky Gee. We are indeed so very grateful to Becky for the nine years she has dedicated herself to developing our Foundations Youth Ministry program to the level that it is today. During that time, she has established and grown one of the most outstanding Youth Ministry programs in the country — a program that included the amazing annual series of WorkTour service programs.

Please join us as we extend our thanks to Becky along with our best wishes for her success in the new endeavors in this next part of her journey.

Pastor
CAMPAIGN CORNER

Like any home, the Old St. Patrick’s sanctuary requires maintenance. When the Church was restored back in 1994-95, it took an old building in disrepair and returned it to an inviting, peaceful place to gather and pray. As those before us have planned for future generations of Old St. Pat’s worshipers, we too need to think of the future of this great community. In order to prevent the church from falling into decline yet again, we owe it to the past, present and future members of Old St. Pat’s to create a true endowment to preserve our home of prayer.

As the last piece of the campaign priorities, we will be creating a preservation fund to maintain the place we meet every Sunday. As a preparatory phase of creating the endowment, though, Old St. Pat’s has begun work on some near-term enhancements that need addressing now.

- The Church Hall in which so many liturgies, programs and events take place has been in serious need of repair for years. The floor is buckling and needs to be replaced; the kitchen, bathrooms and “bride’s room” all desperately need a face-lift; and the chairs that so many use on a weekly basis need to be replaced.

- This summer has been a warm one and when hundreds of people gather in one room for each Mass, the temperature increases even more. After 22 years of service, the compressor for the air conditioning has finally given way and we need a new one (you may have seen it being installed).

- Our church lighting runs on inefficient bulbs and creates costly/difficult work for maintenance. As part of the near-term enhancements, we will be replacing the tracts and bulbs for the lighting to maximize efficiency, eco-friendliness, and cost.

If you would like to learn more about The Journey Forward campaign priorities, and have yet to attend an informational event, we still have a few dates left (please see below). So many members have helped to shape this future vision of Old St. Pat’s, and we look forward to the opportunity to share that vision. Please R.S.V.P. in advance to Tim Liston, tliston@oldstpats.org.

All meetings will be held in Fr. Jack Wall Mission Center at 711 W. Monroe, Room 25.

- Sunday, August 24 after 7 a.m. Mass, or after 9:30 a.m. Mass;
- Sunday September 14 after 8 a.m. Mass or after 11:15 a.m. Mass.

If you’ve already attended an event and have yet to send in your letter of intent, we gratefully ask that you please do. To those who have sent in their letters of intent, we sincerely thank you again!
Have you always lived in Chicago?
In 1983, Old St. Patrick’s Church had only four registered members. And the story goes, two of the four were the rectory housekeeper and her dog.

So how did you get into the construction business?

Tell me, where did you two meet and how did you get engaged?

Larry Page and Sergey Brin developed what was to become Google while working on a research project at Stanford.

In the beginning, when God created the heavens and the earth ....

I guess I am kind of a Genesis guy, that category of folks who love origin stories. For me, it is always fascinating to listen to people talk about where they came from, how they met and became a couple, or how they found their calling and got started in their life’s work. There is often just something inspirational about beginnings.

In my time at Old St. Pat’s I have been lucky enough to have been around the beginnings of many amazing projects, events, organizations, and initiatives. And it has been inspiring.

If you will indulge me I would like to share with you one of those remarkable Old St. Pat’s origin stories. Right around the turn of the millennium (sounds impressive when you say it that way!), a small group of Old St. Pat’s members, all of whom were very involved in volunteer service work, gathered together because they had been asking themselves the same questions: how can we learn to act in ways that get at the root causes of poverty, homelessness, illiteracy, and other social problems? What can we do to create greater peace and justice in our world? Wow, not exactly lightweight material!

Before long the conversation expanded to include more and more Old St. Pat’s members and friends. As the group worked to develop a formal social justice ministry at Old St. Pat’s, two things became crystal clear. First, they wanted to acknowledge that many people at Old St. Pat’s were already involved in the work of social justice, either in their professional lives or as volunteers, and that we have much to learn from them. Second, they did not want to limit the work of social justice at Old St. Pat’s to a committee structure. Their hope was that the Biblical call for social justice would rinse through all the life and activity of Old St. Pat’s. This planning group would then serve as advocates for social justice, assisting and supporting new initiatives as they came along. In order to reflect that sensibility, the planning group chose to name our peace and social justice ministry, The Justice Initiative (recently renamed Social Justice in Action).

The Justice Initiative was established and contributed a great deal to life at Old St. Pat’s but at the same time was always exploring new ways to be more effective advocates for social justice. One of their breakthroughs took place in 2006, The Justice Initiative made a great observation. Liturgical seasons really “work!” Who knew?

But seriously, let us consider Advent. These four weeks do a great job of preparing us for Christmas. The prayers, music, readings and preaching at our liturgies are all directed to help us grow more deeply into the mystery of God becoming human, the Incarnation. Our programs, concerts, and events all bring our attention to Christmas. It is the season for the Giving Tree, Deck The Hall, and a variety of Advent/Christmas lectures. And when Christmas arrives, perhaps we have inched our way to better understanding what it means to live Christmas all year long.

It is similar with Lent. Leaning on our liturgies, programs, and practices of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving; we aspire to grow more deeply into the mystery of Christ’s death and resurrection, the Paschal Mystery. And when we celebrate the Resurrection of our Lord, we hope to have a deeper understanding of what it means to live our lives as an Easter people.
So back in 2006 the thinking went along these lines; we know liturgical seasons are a great way to engage our religious imaginations and our community. We know we cannot really create our own liturgical season (I wonder how that would go over in the home office?). But if we cannot create our own liturgical season, we can pretend we did. Thus was born, the Old St. Patrick’s Season for Social Justice.

Each Season for Social Justice mimics the rhythm of a liturgical season. Focusing on some aspect of the Catholic Social Ethic, we aim to integrate prayer and programs in ways that help us appreciate more fully the gospel call to social justice. And, as with Advent and Lent, our engagement with peace and justice issues does not cease with the end of the season. Working for greater peace and justice in our world has always been an essential part of living the Christian life. The season serves as a concentrated time of learning, inspiration, reflection, and hopefully, as an impetus to renewed action.

Starting on Sunday, September 7, 2014 (and after a one year hiatus), we look forward to beginning our eighth Season for Social Justice. Attending to the signs of the times and moved by the disturbing levels of violence in our communities and the world, we have chosen Praying for Peace, Practicing Nonviolence as our focus for the Season. And just as the liturgical seasons of Advent and Lent serve us so well, let us hope the Season for Social Justice will once again provoke thought, dialogue and transformative action.

Support the Fourth Annual St. Agatha Golf Outing!
Saturday, August 23
By Brian Lynch

Last August, as I entered the “Joe Lewis — The Champ” Golf course for the annual St Agatha’s Benefit Golf Outing,” I mused about two things. First “why the heck would they name a golf course after a boxer?” The second, “why was I there?”

A year prior, I had been so admiring of the initiative of the Old St Pat’s community in the North Lawndale area, I had vowed to become more involved. I had volunteered as an “expert” for the North Lawndale College Prep High School’s Senior Projects (NLCPH). I would highly recommend this activity for everyone who has the time and interest. In retrospect, I realize my time contribution was modest and I got more from the staff and students than I gave to them. Ultimately, my contribution paled in comparison to my friends and the Old St. Pat’s community members who had devoted the equivalent of many weeks worth of hours to meeting, networking, preparing, serving food, gardening, landscaping, painting, mentoring, tutoring, and supporting North Lawndale as volunteers. Actually, the fact that my first time of committing myself to a full day to a North Lawndale organization was golfing on a sunny day on a beautiful golf course, was, well, a bit embarrassing.

While keeping my humility in check, the mission part of my sensibilities was stirred by meeting people from the coordinator and organizer, William “Bo” Harris to Father Larry Dowling, the pastor; to the scores of St. Agatha Alumni. They represented all areas of the country and a cross section of professions. I entered a meaningful day in which I heard story after story — depictions of goodwill, challenges, successes and most of all, gratitude about this great place called St Agatha’s Catholic Church. This was all true until I joined the St. Agatha outing last year. The event was more than a chance to bask in the sun at a beautiful course; rather it had the glow of celebration for a tremendous North Lawndale institution.

It took me back more than 30 years to the time when I was involved in the Christmas food drives at St. Denis Church on the Southwest Side. We worked to benefit our sharing parish — coincidentally St. Agatha’s. Even as a teen, I was struck by how much St. Agatha’s Church and School were shining examples of support, compassion, and hope to a neighborhood that was challenged with so many urban issues. In the last year, my visits to St Agatha’s have proven that the example still shines as bright as ever.

I have since learned that Joe Lewis became better known as a boxing legend, and also was an advocate for racial equality in the game of golf. However, the academic answer to my initial question is irreverent. For me, on that day, the venue named “The Champ” was the perfect setting to honor and benefit St. Agatha’s Church and School — both have served as champions for a neighborhood that needs and deserves heroes in the fight for true justice.

That is why when I received the call a few weeks ago to see if I would participate in the Annual St Agatha’s School Golf Outing on Saturday, August 23 at the Joe Lewis the Champ Golf Course in Riverdale either as a golfer, sponsor or prize donor, I enthusiastically said “yes.” This year, St. Agatha hopes to attract more Old St Pat’s members than last year, and I too share that deep hope.

Whether you would consider making a financial gift, participating in the golfing, volunteering to run the event, or donating a prize, I believe you will experience the same fulfillment and enjoyment I did. This is a cause in support of a special ministry and key partner to Old St Pat’s in the North Lawndale Kinship Initiative. Together we champion the causes of the people of the North Lawndale community.

Brian Lynch is a member and supporter of many liturgical, social justice and fundraising ministries at Old St. Pat’s.

The Gospel of John with Rev. William J. O’Shea

Unlike Matthew, Mark, and Luke, who treat many of the events in the public life of Jesus, John focuses on a more limited number, but treats each one from three perspectives:

- The Old Testament background;
- the gradual revelation of the identity of Jesus;
- and the ongoing life of the Christian community.

Fr. Bill O’Shea has been studying (and indeed lecturing about) this Gospel since seminary days (1956-63). Mentors include Raymond Brown, C.H. Dodd, Andre Feuillet and Francis Moloney. Please join Fr. O’Shea as together we explore and deepen our understanding of this sacred text.

Fr. Bill O’Shea was ordained in 1963. From 1960 to 1972 he served on the staff of the Chicago Summer Biblical Institutes, sponsored by the Archdiocese of Chicago. He has lectured in Scripture and Ethics at Rosary College (now Dominican University). In 1984, he received a Doctor of Ministry degree from the University of St. Mary of the Lake. He has directed the Renew program for the Diocese of Joliet and was also Director of Continuing Education of the Clergy.

Old St. Pat’s is delighted to have Fr. O’Shea offer this program and to be with us as a frequent presider at our Sunday liturgies as well!

DATES: Mondays, (four sessions):
September 8, 15, 22, & 29, 2014

Michael Tigue is the owner of Parish Solutions, the company that created Old St. Pat’s mobile app. He has joined the Crossroads Runners to run in the 2014 Bank of America Chicago Marathon and raise funds for our Crossroads ministry. To motivate other givers, he is offering to match up to $1,000 in donations made on his donation page between now and Sunday, August 31, 2014.

Crossroads Runners Summer Intern Lizzy Harney chatted with Michael to learn why he is running and what he is most excited about.

Q. I heard you are traveling to Chicago for the race. Where do you currently live?
A. I live in Atlanta, GA, with my wife and four children.

Q. Outside of training for the Bank of America Chicago Marathon, what do you do for a living?
A. I own and operate Parish Solutions Company, which creates websites and mobile apps for Catholic Churches. I also operate Web4u Corporation, which provides similar services for all industries. I am the creator of two popular mobile apps, “The Catholic Mega App,” and “Confession: Catholic Sacrament.” “The Catholic Mega App” has been downloaded 25,000 times worldwide since December 2013.

Q. What are other some activities or events that interest you?
A. I volunteer as a guest speaker at RCIA programs and other parish events. In 2013, I participated in the Catholic Charities of Atlanta Leadership class and was the top fundraiser in the class. I have a degree in Theology from Franciscan University of Steubenville and spent nine years as a lay campus minister at Emory University in Atlanta, GA.

Q. Are you new to running?
A. No, I have run three previous marathons including the Walt Disney World Marathon in January 2014. This will be my fourth marathon in 18 months.

Q. Do you have a racing goal for this year’s marathon?
A. I want a 4:15 race time.

Q. What do you like about running?
A. I love the runner’s high after a run, and I like earning more calories to eat.

Q. What made you want to run the Bank of America Chicago Marathon?
A. My brother lives in Chicago, so this is a great chance to run a marathon and hang out with him. I ran the Cleveland marathon last year when he was living there.

Q. Besides your brother, what connection do you have to Chicago?
A. I grew up in Peoria, IL and taught high school religion at Peoria Notre Dame for two years after graduating from college.

Q. What are you looking forward to doing in Chicago other than the marathon?
A. I am looking forward to consuming massive amounts of food after the marathon and letting my brother show me around.

Q. Is there any Chicago food you are looking forward to having that you may not be able to get in Georgia?
A. Mmmhh....a nice large Chicago style pizza will be fun. I am sure my brother will have some restaurants to show me.

Q. What is your favorite Chicago sports team?
A. I grew up in Peoria, Illinois, so Chicago wasn’t far away when Michael Jordan and the Chicago Bulls were winning titles. I think I am still a Bulls fan at heart no matter where I live.

PLEASE HELP!

As Old St. Patrick’s is Chicago’s oldest Catholic church and oldest public building, this sacred space is special to all who find their way here. Knowing how all of us appreciate and revere this sacred place, we ask for your help and cooperation in maintaining this historic church.

Did you know:
➢ spilled beverages stain the carpet and marble floor?
➢ dropped food can be ground into the carpet and some of that food, especially gum, raisins, can never be completely removed?
➢ keys, pens, and metal toys have scarred many of the pews, and these pews will have to be removed, restored, and reinstalled?

It is important that we know the consequences if we do not care for this magnificent church. Please help us preserve the beauty of this grand church for generations to come.

Women and Men of Faith
August 17
St. Joan of the Cross
(1666-1736)

An encounter with a shabby old woman many dismissed as insane prompted St. Joan to dedicate her life to the poor. For Joan, who had a reputation as a businesswoman intent on monetary success, this was a significant conversion.

Born in 1666 in Anjou, France, Joan worked in the family business—a small shop near a religious shrine—from an early age. After her parents’ death she took over the shop herself. She quickly became known for her greediness and insensitivity to the beggars who often came seeking help.

That was until she was touched by the strange woman who claimed she was on intimate terms with the deity. Joan, who had always been devout, even scrupulous, became a new person. She began caring for needy children. Then the poor, elderly and sick came to her. Over time she closed the family business so she could devote herself fully to good works and penance.

She went on to find what came to be known as the Congregation of St. Anne of Providence. It was then she took the religious name of Joan of the Cross. By the time of her death in 1736 she had founded 12 religious houses, hospices and schools. Pope John Paul II canonized her in 1982.
