A MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

By: Fr. Patrick McGrath, S.J.
Pastor of Old St. Patrick's Church
Sunday, March 5, 2023

"How is it going? How do you like being pastor at St. Pat's?"

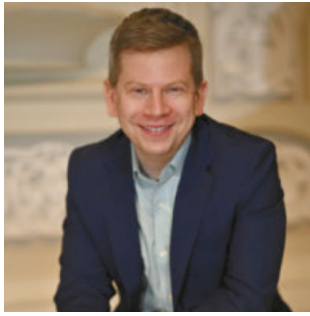

Over these past eight months as pastor, many friends and acquaintances have asked these questions. I have to say that I love it. While I have been connected to OSP for many years, I still find myself discovering something new about us nearly every day. The breadth and depth of the life and ministry of this community are extraordinary and deeply consoling. I am enjoying being stretched in new ways and working through the next best steps for us in the days ahead.

Let me share a few observations of life at OSP these days...

- The mission of this community is vibrant and there is deep commitment by large numbers of staff and members to continually recommit to our shared goals.
- Our worship, spiritual ministries, and justice and service programming reach far and wide. We are more than 9,100 registered families representing 916 zip codes. Our livestream Masses and events had more than 155,000 views last year. Our outreach in formation programs, pastoral care and social justice ministries is remarkable.
- While there has been steady growth in the number of folks attending Mass in person as we have put the worst of the pandemic behind us, attendance is still only about 60% of what it was in 2019. I believe we have great opportunities to extend our reach as missionary disciples and continue to build up our Sunday worship community.
- Each Sunday, we have around 2,500-3,000 livestream viewers for Mass. Of those viewers, half live in zip codes outside of the state of Illinois. It is clear that for those who are physically unable to be with us in person, the livestream is a lifeline to our vibrant liturgies. What a blessing it is for our community.
- At times, we seem to operate with assumptions about our community, the desires of our members, our role in the larger church and other important considerations that may no longer be accurate. As an example, I think there have been shifts in demographics in our OSP community in the past 5-7 years. Gathering more reliable data about who we are is a priority moving forward. The Disciple Maker Index survey that we just launched will help us gather some useful information. I encourage you to take the time to share your perspective. Links to the survey can be found on our website.
- I was not part of the process that resulted in the articulation of our current Vision & Mission Statement. It is clear that living out of this statement has inspired and challenged the community. Thanks be to God! I believe that there is work to be done, however, to discern and articulate a fuller strategic plan for OSP that flows from this good work. Working with our leadership team and our Parish Advisory Board, I look forward to this important work in the days ahead.

I am excited to lead us in prayerful discernment about how God might be calling us today. I am confident that the spiritual freedom and creativity characteristic of OSP will help us to respond generously to the call!

CALLED TO CHANGE, CONNECTION, AND COMMUNITY

By: Mark Scozzafave
Director of Music Ministries
Sunday, March 5, 2023

This Lent at Old St. Pat's, we are "Called to Change, Connection, and Community"—a focus statement informed by the community around us, by our Vision statement, and by the ecclesiological tenets of the season. In today's gospel, aided by multiple instances of light imagery, Matthew's account of the Transfiguration may, in fact, echo that same concept. As we are drawn to the sacred presence of shared community and Eucharist, I will offer a brief reflection on today's music and its relationship to our seasonal focus and the gospel.

Light plays a critical role in the story of Transfiguration, altering the outward appearance of Jesus, illuminating his face, effecting conversion, and even acting as a harbinger for the voice of God. When we sing Bernadette Farrell's Christ Be Our Light, may that prayer resound fervently as our call to build community. We sing that Christ's light might shine in our hearts so that we may be light to others.

For offertory, we introduce a new piece by African American composer Roger Holland called The Encounter. Holland is a Liturgical Music Consultant for the Archdiocese of New York Office of Black Ministry and Music Director for special masses at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Continuing my commitment to use music of women composers and composers of color at each mass, his music serves as a welcome pathway to changing and enhancing our own repertoire. The verses speak of invitation and shared song, of welcoming light and illuminating clarity, while the refrain reminds us of connection, or encounter, with Jesus. We sing—together of course!—of the changes in our lives when we encounter Jesus in each other. Our lives will "never be the same", or as the Spanish translation (which we will sing on March 19th) articulates: tu vida entera cambiará (your entire life will change). Light, Holland surmises, leads us to connection and change. We are sent forth with Tony Alonso's I Will Lift My Eyes, the text of which takes inspiration from 10th century Celtic poetry, Psalm 121, and the writings of Thomas Merton. The first two verses speak beautifully to what I imagine as the outcome of the Transfiguration. It is time to move away from our "shelter of safety" (no tent construction needed), to rise and not be afraid of the storm, to forgive, to follow where Jesus is leading: to listen to God's beloved son. This sense of change and budding discipleship is possible only with God's mercy which we invoke in the psalm, and in our collective response to lift our eyes to the mountains. For it is from there that our help is found, and that light reveals the pathway for us to follow. May we listen courageously to Jesus and be the light that transfigures the world around us.

We are all part of an interwoven liturgical fabric of sacred word, ritual, and art. As we continue to return to the pews, the sights and sounds of liturgy at Old St. Pat's recall a sense of belonging, welcome, and life-giving joy that so many seek. We find our voice by participating in that liturgical experience, by our collective words reverberating off the stenciled walls, and by our music mingling into one voice. I'm honored to help shape the musical experience and encounters of this community.

Archdiocese seeks feedback from parishioners about their faith life

Chicagoland

On Ash Wednesday, Feb. 22, archdiocesan parishes will roll out the Disciple Makers Index Survey to all parishioners with the goal of learning where parishioners are in their faith journeys and how the local church can help them grow in that faith.

People can access the 75-question survey, which organizers say should take 10 to 15 minutes to complete, through a QR code. Paper copies will also be available at parishes. The survey closes on March 31, before the start of Holy Week.

Priests will take a Priests Leadership Inventory Survey at the same time.

"This is an opportunity for us, working with Catholic Leadership Institute, to do a great assessment in our parishes of two things: give parishioners an opportunity to reflect on their own spiritual growth and to provide feedback on the efforts of the parish to help them grow," said James Klein, senior advisor to the archdiocese, who is helping to coordinate the effort.

The Archdiocese of Chicago is part of a pilot project that includes 15 other dioceses across the country. Funding comes from Lilly Endowment Inc.

"It gives us a great opportunity to assess where we're at," Klein said.

"The timing is such that it's very good for us coming out of COVID, coming out of Renew My Church restructuring and how to best move forward in the context of Renew My Church."

Participants can remain anonymous and surveys are available in 19 languages. Parishes will receive results in early June, along with training on how to understand the information, determine next steps and communicate the results to the parish.

"One of the great things about this, it not only gives parishes the opportunity to look at themselves, but it also provides a real benchmarking opportunity versus other parishes," Klein said. "You can cut it by demographic groups within your parish. ... This survey has now been taken by a million Catholics in the United States, so we have a great opportunity to benchmark against others and other parishes."

The Priests Leadership Inventory will help priests and archdiocesan leaders with priest development and formation.

"For our priests, we have four strategies there — ongoing formation and development, more planful priest placement process, hoping priests will develop a growth plan, opportunity for coaching and mentoring," Klein said. "As far as the Disciples Makers Index, as well, it helps each parish have a greater understanding of hearing the voices of their parishioners as we continue to revitalize our parishes."

The archdiocese plans to conduct the survey every few years, he said. "It will give us an opportunity over time to see how we are developing our parishes," he said.

Father Ken Simpson, a retired pastor and former vicar for professional and pastoral development of priests, said the information that will be gathered through the priests' survey will benefit the whole archdiocese. "We've always had this desire to develop a good database, a good baseline understanding of just who our priests are and to record that in a way that the priests themselves could contribute to it," said Simpson.

The archdiocese has also wanted a view into how effective parishes are at making disciples. "The archdiocese learned that many other dioceses were thinking of the same thing, and Catholic Leadership Institute, which helped in the discernment and decisions process of Renew My Church, has been working on these very same ideas with a grant from Lilly Endowment Inc.," Simpson said.

Parishes often do surveys, said Simpson, but they can be more surface-level, such as asking people what time they want Mass to be. But the point of the Disciple Makers Index is to learn how people are practicing their faith and how the parish can better support them in developing that relationship with God.

"The real point of Renew My Church is evangelization, is making disciples. So you'll have a baseline and you'll have something to work on. You can make a plan from some data," he said. "And, of course, the archdiocese will have a sense of that too: How many people actually going to church understand the faith, and are acting out of that faith? Speaking as a pastor, I found it immensely helpful to actually have a number, a snapshot of what's actually happening, what are people's attitudes, what are their practices," Simpson said.

Chicago is routinely recognized as one of the most segregated cities in our nation. Is it possible to consider new ways of being neighbors? Is it possible to reconsider what it means to be a neighborhood?

The acclaimed Folded Map Project visually connects residents who live at corresponding addresses on the North and South Sides of Chicago and investigates what urban segregation looks like and how it impacts Chicago residents. What started as a photographic study quickly evolved into a multimedia exploration with video interviews of residents. The project invites audiences to open a dialogue and question how we are all socially impacted by racial, economic, and institutional conditions that segregate the city.

Old St. Patrick's Church, 700 W. Adams, at 6:30 PM

Tuesday, March 14th

To be part of a movement of change in the church and in our world, we must have the courage to look in the mirror and consider the opportunities we have been given - including the ones we have missed - to be bearers of Christ's love in the world. Let us join together as a community for an evening of prayer and reconciliation, with God, with our world, and with one another.

GO AND DO LIKEWISE: LIVING THE GOSPEL

Old St. Patrick's Fellowship Hall, 625 W. Adams, at 10:15 AM

Sundays during Lent (February 26th - March 26th)

We hear the Gospel proclaimed every Sunday. Perhaps we even read the Gospel as a personal spiritual practice.

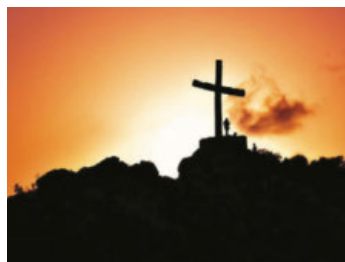

But where can we go if we just want to talk with others about what we hear in the Sunday Gospels?

Go and Do Likewise: Living the Gospel is a thirty minute session, scheduled for five Sundays in Lent, that invites us into dialogue with the Sunday Gospel and one another. No registration is necessary.

Resourced by new reflections written for us by theologian, poet and storyteller Jack Shea, each session will offer time for quiet reflection and conversation in small groups. In engaging in these dialogues with the Gospel and each other, we hope to surface new insights to help deepen our faith, as well as to identify new actions that will enliven and build up community among us.

Join us as often as you wish. We welcome the conversation!

For more information, please contact Bob Kolatorowicz at: bobk@oldstpats.org

Our chapel prayer this Lent will use Sr. Joyce Rupp's brand new Lenten devotional, Jesus, Companion in My Suffering.

Please feel free to join us, occasionally or regularly, whenever you are available. There is no cost. Register to receive the Zoom link to participate. For further details about the experience go to www.contemplativecommunity.org

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

March 8

... a global day celebrating the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women. The day also marks a call to action.

Discerning Deacons, a project to engage Catholics in the active discernment of our church about women and the diaconate, has spent the past few years organizing listening sessions, prayer experiences, and learning opportunities for those seeking to be part of the synodal process of listening for the Spirit's urgings in and for our church. Members of Discerning Deacons have fostered opportunities to engage with theologians, church leaders, and Catholics around the United States, parts of Mexico, and areas of the Bolivian Amazon - all in order to see where and how women are serving and ministering to God's people in the world today.

Those engaged in this movement seek the intercession of St. Phoebe, who in his letter to the Romans, St. Paul commends to the church in Rome, introducing her as a deacon (diakonos) of the church at Cenchræe. She was a woman of great courage and deep love, answering the call "to minister to God's people in the earliest days of the church, when persecution against Christians was strong. She earned the trust of Paul, who depended on her to handle communications with the ecclesial community in Rome*," surely facing adversity from the patriarchal society of the day.

Since the beginning of Christianity, the good news has been spread and served by women who have answered God's call. As Pope Francis encourages the global church to engage in ongoing synodality, let us amplify the voices of women whose encounters with Christ in their ministry can inform where and how our Church might move forward in this movement.

**Check out DiscerningDeacons.org to learn more about St. Phoebe, other women leaders of our church, and how to participate in the ongoing project of discerning women's roles in our church, in order to best serve the world and build the Kingdom of God.*

IMMIGRANT AND REFUGEE MINISTRY

A Lenten Faith Journey
March 5 - March 11, Week 2

Second Sunday of Lent

God saves us "...not according to our works but according to his own design" [See 2 Tim 1:9]. Do the laws of our land reflect God's design? Speak out. Learn more about US policies.

Monday

"Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful." [See Lk 6:36-38] Mercy is recognizing the needs of others and meeting those needs. Be merciful today to a migrant or refugee in need. Support merciful programs like Kino Border Institute in Nogales, AZ

Tuesday

"Come now, let us set things right," says the LORD." [See Is 1:18] There are many ways to set things right: welcome and support migrants and refugees; write to leaders for compassionate immigration reform.

Wednesday

"...to give his life as a ransom for many" [See Mt 20:28]. What will you give to ransom God's children – detained immigrants and asylum seekers? Maybe your time? Read why immigrants matter and why they are worth 'ransom'.

Thursday

"Blessed is the one who trusts in the LORD," [See Jer 17:7] Migrants, refugees and asylum seekers are truly blessed for their trust in God. Children who were brought here now need us to act: Protect DACA for them!

Friday

"This is the heir...acquire his inheritance." [See Mt. 21:33-43] How we treat migrants and refugees determines our inheritance, for we are all one family. Pray with us at the Broadview Detention Center in person or virtually. Email mgoebel@archchicago.org

Saturday

The Prodigal Son [See Lk15:1-3, 11-32] When he remembered who his father was, he was able to turn home. Migrants also know to whom they belong and what they deserve. Pray that our actions of welcome open the eyes of others.

Saint Dominic Savio

Saint of the Day for March 10, 2023

So many holy persons seem to die young. Among them was Dominic Savio, the patron of choirboys.

Born into a peasant family at Riva, Italy, young Dominic joined Saint John Bosco as a student at the Oratory in Turin at the age of 12. He impressed Don Bosco with his desire to be a priest and to help him in his work with neglected boys. A peacemaker and an organizer, young Dominic founded a group he called the Company of the Immaculate Conception which, besides being devotional, aided John Bosco with the boys and with manual work. All the members save one, Dominic, would, in 1859, join Don Bosco in the beginnings of his Salesian congregation. By that time, Dominic had been called home to heaven.

As a youth, Dominic spent hours rapt in prayer. His raptures he called "my distractions." Even in play, he said that at times, "It seems heaven is opening just above me. I am afraid I may say or do something that will make the other boys laugh." Dominic would say, "I can't do big things. But I want all I do, even the smallest thing, to be for the greater glory of God."

Dominic's health, always frail, led to lung problems and he was sent home to recuperate. As was the custom of the day, he was bled in the thought that this would help, but it only worsened his condition. He died on March 9, 1857, after receiving the Last Sacraments. Saint John Bosco himself wrote the account of his life.

Some thought that Dominic was too young to be considered a saint. Saint Pius X declared that just the opposite was true, and went ahead with his cause. Dominic was canonized in 1954. His liturgical feast is celebrated on March 9.

Like many a youngster, Dominic was painfully aware that he was different from his peers. He tried to keep his piety from his friends lest he have to endure their laughter. Even after his death, his youth marked him as a misfit among the saints and some argued that he was too young to be canonized. Pope Pius X wisely disagreed. For no one is too young—or too old or too anything else—to achieve the holiness to which we all are called.
