Lenten Evening of Reflection

Wednesday, April 10 | 7 - 8:15 pm
Old St. Patrick’s Church

The Practice of Almsgiving:
Reconciling Our Relationship with the World through Mercy and Justice
Led by Beth Knobbe

Followed by opportunities to celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation

Beth Knobbe lives an intentional single life and is passionate about sharing her faith with others. She earned a Master of Divinity degree from Catholic Theological Union in Chicago, and she has a Bachelor of Science degree from Briar Cliff University.

She currently serves as a relationship manager with Catholic Relief Services, working with dioceses and universities to engage Catholics in living their faith in solidarity with the poor around the world. Beth has traveled extensively and also shares her time writing and speaking about the spiritual life. She is the author of Party of One: Living Single with Faith, Purpose, and Passion (2011) and Finding My Voice: A Young Woman’s Perspective (2009).

Although the noise is driving me crazy and the vibrations from all the pounding of pavement is causing me to panic with respect to possible cracks in the walls, I am looking forward to the “new look” of the expressway outside our back door! The end of this construction cannot happen fast enough! If I could put the emoji of the angry face on this article, I would!

But despite my frustration with the noise, dirt, and chaos, I am intrigued by the symbolism of the new bridge that reaches across the expressway at Monroe Street. Admittedly I am borrowing the image of a picture that my friend and colleague Mark Scozzafave, our music director, put on his Instagram this past week. Mark wisely and creatively saw the bridge as a gateway to Old St. Pat’s for all those who travel east from the neighborhood of the West Loop. Borrowing this metaphor of the bridge, I couldn’t agree more!

The noise, the drilling, the pounding, the vibrations, the dirt, and inconvenience says a lot when it comes to building a bridge. It takes work, time, patience, and perseverance. I can’t think of a better way of expressing both the challenge and the mission of the Church today than all of this.

As far as I’m concerned, we need this bridge project! It reminds me of the renewed mission we should definitely be about here at Old St. Pat’s. I want us to always be “Bridge Builders” and doing whatever we can to find creative ways of bridging this unique expression of the church with not only the ever increasing number of millennials who live in the West Loop, but for everyone who seeks a life-giving experience of a faith community such as ours. There’s a lot of noise, distractions, “dirt”, inconvenience, and plenty of reasons why crossing the bridge to the Catholic experience is not high on many people’s agendas these days. With you, I am committed to using every ounce of energy to do what we can to truly be bridge builders for those seeking a renewed experience of the church today.

Despite the cost and hardships, we need to keep building bridges: with the lost, the excluded, those on the margins, and those who feel unloved. We need to be bridge builders with our sisters and brothers of other faith traditions. We need to build bridges with those who have been hurt by this church of ours and those who have walked away angry and discouraged. Together with our new Mayor, we need to build bridges in this city, uniting neighborhoods and creating KINSHIP among all. With the appointment of Wilton Gregory (a friend and Chicago priest) recently appointed as the new archbishop of Washington DC, a place so deeply wounded by the sexual abuse scandal, we need to build bridges that bring healing, reconciliation, and a brighter, stronger Church throughout the United States and around the globe.

The noise and disruption is no fun… but once the bridge is built and completed, I look forward to welcoming many to this Sacred place of Hope and Renewal!

Thank you for being the incredible bridge builders who keep this Church of Old St. Pat’s so strong and vibrant!

Father Tom Hurley
During Lent we have asked some of our church members, friends, and staff to respond to a one-word prompt. The word prompts reflect some of the themes we will be hearing in the Sunday Gospels.

_Temptation... Awe... Change... Forgiveness... Judgment... Passion_

Fifth Sunday of Lent | April 7, 2019 | "Judgment"

If you’ve ever taken a yoga class, chances are there has been a point where the teacher leads you through a short guided meditation. During this meditation you’ve probably been asked to “notice your thoughts” but do not hold onto them or fixate on them. Do not _judge_ your thoughts, just let them pass like clouds in the sky. If you are like any other normal human being, you’ve probably found this incredibly challenging and a bit frustrating.

But it is possible.

I think this is what Jesus is calling us to do in today’s readings. He is our yoga teacher. He calls us to “Remember not the events of the past” and to “forget what lies behind.” He draws us to his ultimate call to non judgment: “Let the one among you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone at her.” This week, I invite you into the yoga class of life. Walk through your week _mindfully_ - not judgmentally. Be aware of your thoughts but do not let them get the best of you. Focus on the “prize of God’s upward calling” and _inward_ calling to be kind and compassionate to others, but most especially to yourself.

_Dominic Trumfio is the Associate Director of Music at Old St. Patrick’s and is a RYT 200-hr certified yoga instructor from Moksha Yoga Center, Chicago._

“Good judgment comes from experience, and most of that comes from bad judgment.”

When I came across this quote years ago, I was struck by its wit and honesty. As a person who struggled with negative self-judgment, I found this perspective liberating. Perhaps my mistakes, even poorly-intentioned mistakes, weren’t the end of the world, but an opportunity to grow.

Does it work this way with God? Being judged by God for our actions (and inactions) is a recurrent theme in the New Testament. Does he take into account whether or not we learn from our mistakes? I’d like to think that the God of Love would consider context in his evaluations, just as I’d want anyone to consider all the facts when judging me.

How often do I consider all the facts when judging others? Or even when judging myself? Perhaps this Lent is an opportunity to reflect on the measuring stick with which we evaluate ourselves and others.

_Judgment, to me, is the act of making the best decision for a desired outcome. As Catholics, we can use the concept of “the greater good” to help us make judgment calls. This is a consideration of the best outcome for all people possibly impacted by a decision. This can be used as a guiding principle which can provide structure and order to our decisions. The discernment process can require one to get personal and granular in order to uncover what the greater good actually is. This process can provide us with an opportunity to peel back the layers of our preconceived notions and open us up to have space for something more. Deciding based in this knowledge can provide us with the framework and vital knowledge needed for the best decision. Judgment is then the act of choosing the best outcome based in our knowledge of what is good and right for all. Certainly as people of Faith, this can be informed by and through our relationship to God._

OSP IMMIGRATION AND REFUGEE MINISTRY - REFUGEE FAMILY UPDATE

As many of you are aware, Old St. Pat’s has an immigration and refugee ministry. We are pleased to introduce you to the first refugee family that we are sponsoring: Ferney, Maria, and Luis Jr. Ramos. Ferney is working full time and is proud to be supporting his family. Maria attends ESL and sewing classes. She hopes to be working soon as a seamstress. Luis Jr. is a delightful 8-year-old with an engaging smile, a love of math, and an interest in learning to play the piano. He has adjusted well to school, enrolled in ESL classes, and is thriving as a third-grade student.

Their journey to Chicago started in Columbia followed by two years in Ecuador. They are now living in the Rogers Park area. Old St. Patrick’s financial support, working through Catholic Charities of Chicago, has provided them with comprehensive resettlement services including finding an apartment, furnishing it, securing health services, setting up a budgeting process, securing social security cards, enrolling in ESL classes, and providing them with ongoing caseworker support.

The immigration and refugee committee is supporting their entry into the Chicago community by becoming their American friends and helping them acclimate to their new way of life. To date, we have provided them with additional winter clothes, books, a computer, a keyboard, three bicycles and a sewing machine all donated by committee members and friends within the Chicagoland area! Members of the committee have taken them to the Field Museum, shared a meal in their home, and tutored them in English.

We are grateful to all members of OSP who have supported the Ramos family. We are especially grateful to “Working Bikes,” a not for profit bike shop that gives donated bicycles “new life by redistributing them as tools of empowerment in local and global communities”. Working bikes provided Ferney, Maria, and Luis, Jr. with bikes, helmets, and locks, all free of charge!

The Ramos family is very grateful for the generosity shown to them by OSP. Each time they are presented with a donation, they humbly express their inability to repay us and always express their hope that God repay us through his blessings!

To learn more about the refugee ministry, please contact Kayla Jackson at kaylaj@oldtstpats.org.

Each week I look forward to the music that Mark, Dominic, and the Liturgy Team so skillfully select for our Sunday worship at Old St. Pat’s. One Sunday in February, a favorite of mine, “Love Is the Boat for the Journey” by Irish composer Ian Callanan, was sung during the Presentation. For some reason, the lyrics, set to a traditional Irish tune, really struck me that day: “You are our God, the living saving Word, You are the banquet of justice. You know our pain, you lift us from our shame, for you are the boat for the journey.” What an excellent theme, or even anthem, for Lent: Love is the Boat for the Journey.

Each year at the Holy Name Cathedral Campus of The Frances Xavier Warde School, we select a theme and a symbol for Lent. After sharing Ian Callanan’s song both in class and at our Ash Wednesday liturgy, we asked the students to select a simple sailboat design for “Love is the Boat for the Journey.” They crafted and share their personal promises for the three pillars of Lent—almsgiving, prayer, and fasting—on a paper sailboat that they decorated and displayed on their lockers. This year, the promises written on the colorful sailboats are simple yet poignant:

“I pledge to be positive and nice to my brother.”
“I will say the ‘Hail Mary’ every night.”
“I pledge to stay off my phone more.”
“I plan to give up procrastinating.”
“I will learn a new prayer every week.”
“I will help do things around the house without my family asking me.”
“I will give thanks more often.”
“I will pray every time I hear a siren.”
“During Lent I will be really nice to my brother.”
“I will love my parents more by obeying what they say.”

To capitalize upon this vibrant Lenten theme to an even greater degree, I decided to provide journal prompts for my religion students that relate to “Love is the Boat for the Journey.” This was not a very popular exercise at first, I must admit. Journaling? Perhaps not the favorite activity of many 7th or 8th grade boys. Yet—I have been quite pleasantly surprised by the thoughtful and intentional responses from so many of my teenage students, male and female alike:

Journal Question #5: Who is your “lifeboat” or “lifejacket” when the waters of Lent, or even life, get choppy? Or you drift off-course or start to sink?

“Praying at night helps me to get back on track and keeps me going with my Lenten promises.” ~ Christopher S.

“For me, my brother and my parents keep me afloat and my reason for this is our connections. We are so personally attached and helpful to one another at all times. [My family] makes sure I do my best and they’ve kept me in check when I’m going off course in my life through my troubles and tribulations.” ~ Payton G.

“Someone who helps me when I get off track is my dad because he reminds me to say a prayer at night before bed. He also reminds me to be kind to my brother and to be grateful.” ~ Katharine G.

“My ‘lifesavers’ are my parents who are always there for me to cheer me up or tell me not to worry. My friends are also ‘lifesavers’ because I can talk to them and they provide an escape from other things that might be stressing me out.” ~ Olivia F.

“My dad is always there for me when I need him. If he sees that I am down, he will always bring me up. Whether it’s giving me confidence, telling me it’s okay, or anything else, he will do whatever it takes.” ~ Nick R.

“My lifesaver is God and my baseball coach because they both help me to get through things, and they understand me... Also, my parents are lifesavers because they help guide me through and life and keep me from sinking.” ~ Aidan T.

“A life-jacket in Lent for me is remembering that Jesus gave his life for us. It would be the least I can do if I can keep my [Lenten] promise.” ~ Kelly K.

“Someone who serves as a life-saver for me when I am “sinking” would be my younger siblings. I want to be their role model and show them positive behavior. Also, they remind me of my bad habits, blatantly, and sometimes I need to hear these, even when I don’t want to.” ~ Felicity C.

“When running into hardships, the Holy Spirit and my grandma are there for me. The Holy Spirit is a lifesaver because when something is happening that is bad, the Holy Spirit protects me and tells me to always do the right thing. My grandma is always there to comfort me.” ~ Johnnie D.

“One of my lifesavers is my Grandfather. I see or talk to him every day on the phone. He sets me straight when I need him to.” ~ Max B.

Why not use some of this simple yet sacred theology to help you navigate the turbulent waters of Lent? When you are feeling hopeless or the safe harbor of Easter seems so very far away, reflect upon the wisdom of this young generation who truly does embody the good we need in the world. “With faith, hope, and love, we claim your living Word, for you are the boat for the journey.”

May Love be your boat during your journey of Lent.

MASS & DINNER AT SANTORINI

Last Sunday evening, many of us attended the 5 pm Mass and then we were off to eat at Santorini’s restaurant in Greek Town! Again we welcomed new people to Encore and had 30 people sign up for this dinner!
One of the great Gifts of Old St. Pat’s and her people is that it seems that we have a certain propensity to create rich and vibrant and creative traditions. Among those traditions are the Community Dinners that we have shared on Holy Thursday for the last 30 years. There have been so many graceful stories and memories from these and we hope that you continue to find ways to share a meal with "those who you call friends" as a way to commemorate Holy Thursday in your own lives.

Our mission is clear: to encounter, engage and serve -- and it’s that third component to which we call you, as we pivot our attention from gathering for a community dinner to serving outwardly with the community that we have built... to the community that surrounds us as we Make Room for this new tradition. To all of you whose fingerprints are on the soul of the Holy Thursday Community Dinners: Thank You. To everyone affiliated with Old St. Pat’s, we encourage you to join us for Holy Thursday Liturgy this year (7pm, April 18) as, together, we risk the dawning of a new Holy Thursday Tradition.

For all that has been: Thank You. For all that is to come: Yes!

VOLUNTEER LIAISON NEEDED FOR A NORTH LAWNDALE YOUTH BOXING PROGRAM

The Organization:
Boxing Out Negativity (BON) is a successful North Lawndale-based nonprofit organization with a mission of fostering anti-violence and empowering youth ages 8-17 to realize the best in themselves and then achieve it. With boxing as a hook, the program engages young participants in character building athletic training, mentoring, tutoring, motivational presentations, peace circles, field trips and other forms of enrichment. Hours are 3-6pm on school days and varying throughout the summer. St. Agatha Catholic Church, UCAN and other strong community partners are primary organizational supporters of BON.

Volunteer Opportunity:
BON is looking to expand its community engagement, increase its capacity to serve young people and tighten up administrative functions of fundraising, donor and volunteer engagement, bookkeeping, etc. A caring individual is needed to help resource these functions through volunteers at Old St. Patrick's and other supporting organizations and individuals. The time commitment is typically 2-3 hours per week, perhaps some on site and some serving remotely.

Volunteer Profile:
The ideal liaison(s) will be a man or woman (or two individuals) comfortable within a 2019 African American ethos, energized by the BON mission and interested in engaging directly with the program either occasionally or more often. Experience in athletics/physical training, fundraising, or nonprofit communications are a plus. Potential liaisons or anyone simply interested in BON are invited to come out and view/participate in a session to see the program in action. Archdiocese of Chicago Virtus training (Safe Environments for Children) is required.

To Volunteer or Learn More:
Interested parties please contact Head Coach and Founder, Derek Brown, at info@boxingoutnegativity.org or Vincent Guider, Old St. Patrick’s Church’s North Lawndale Kinship Initiative Director at Vincentg@oldstpats.org. Also, visit the Boxing Out Negativity Website at boxingoutnegativity.org.
OSP Next is the community for Young Adults at Old St. Pat’s! There’s no “signing up” - if you’re here, you’re part of the community!

Simply join us anytime for one of the events or opportunities listed. Email OSPnext@oldstpats.org with any questions.

AFTER MASS FELLOWSHIP - TONIGHT!
Sunday, April 7 | 6:15 pm | Green Street Local

Join us after 5 o’clock Mass for a chance to get to know your fellow young adults. We will gather on the front steps immediately following Mass before heading over to Green Street Local for some food or drinks.

APRIL BOOK CLUB
Monday, April 22 | 7 - 8:30 pm | The Book Cellar

For our April book, we are reading Hillbilly Elegy: A Memoir of a Family and Culture in Crisis. This memoir by J. D. Vance is about the Appalachian values of his Kentucky family and their relation to the social problems of his hometown of Middletown, Ohio, where his mother’s parents moved when they were young.

Newcomers are always welcome! Just read the book and show up.

OSP NEXT MEN’S BIBLE STUDY
Mondays, 7 - 8 pm | 711 W. Monroe, Room 21

Are you a man who’s interested in growing in faith by engaging with the scriptures? Come join the second session of OSP Men’s Bible Study! If you’re not very talkative, that’s ok! You can participate as much or as little as you like.

If you have a Bible, that’s a plus but we will discuss necessary materials at your first meeting. Hope to see you there! Please contact Nathan at nathangartlan@gmail.com with any questions.

Next meeting: Monday, April 8 at 7 pm

Blessed are the Peacemakers Trustee Dinner

April 24, 2019

Hilton Chicago Grand Ballroom

5:30 pm Reception | 6:30 pm Dinner

This year we will recognize the contributions of two extraordinary faith leaders whose lives of service have made a profound difference in our world.

Fr. Jack Wall

Diakonia Award

A great friend of CTU, Fr. Jack Wall represents an exceptional model of “pastor” to the Church here in Chicago and across the country.

Sr. Helen Prejean, CSJ

Blessed are the Peacemakers Award

Sr. Helen Prejean has worked to spark meaningful and necessary dialogue about the abolition of the death penalty.

Reading for the Day

Saint John Baptist de la Salle

(d. April 7, 1719)

Saint of the Day for April 7

Complete dedication to what he saw as God’s will for him dominated the life of John Baptist de la Salle. In 1950, Pope Pius XI named him patron of schoolteachers for his efforts in upgrading school instruction. As a young 17th-century Frenchman, John had everything going for him: scholarly bent, good looks, noble family background, money, refined upbringing. At the early age of 11, he received the tonsure and started preparation for the priesthood, to which he was ordained at 27. He seemed assured then of a life of dignified ease and a high position in the Church.

Once convinced that this was his divinely appointed mission, John threw himself wholeheartedly into the work, left home and family, abandoned his position as canon at Rheims, gave away his fortune, and reduced himself to the level of the poor to whom he devoted his entire life.

The remainder of his life was closely entwined with the community of religious men he founded, the Brothers of the Christian School (Christian Brothers or De La Salle Brothers). This community grew rapidly and was successful in educating boys of poor families, using methods designed by John. It prepared teachers in the first training college for teachers and also set up homes and schools for young delinquents of wealthy families.

Yet even in his success, John did not escape experiencing many trials: heart-rending disappointment and defections among his disciples, bitter opposition from the secular schoolmasters who resented his new and fruitful methods, and persistent opposition from the Jansenists of his time, whose moral rigidity and pessimism about the human condition John resisted vehemently all his life.

Afflicted with asthma and rheumatism in his last years, he died at 68 on Good Friday, and was canonized in 1900.
